PUBLISHERS,

LOCATION.

THE DIVINITY SCHOOL is situated at the N. W. corner of Thirty-ninth and Walnut Streets, West Philadelphia. It is accessible by the Passenger Railway Cars on Market Street, and by those of the Chestnut and Walnut Streets Line.

O P E N I N G .

The School opens on the third Thursday in September, which in the present year (1868) will be on the 17th day of the month.

The Dean will meet applicants for admission at eleven o'clock on the day above named, in Spencer Hall, Thirty-ninth and Walnut Streets, West Philadelphia, and admit on probation such as propose for the Junior Class and seem to be able to do the work of that Class.

Applicants for the Senior and Middle grades will be examined by the Professors at 12 o'clock of the same day, at the same place.

The ordinary exercises of the Institution begin at noon on Friday.

Reference Books.—Bridges' Christian Ministry. Oxenden's Pastoral Care.

One hour in each week is assigned to Devotional exercises, and practical Instruction, attended by all the members of the School.

Persons desiring to undertake only a part of the above named course, are arranged for individually.

Students unable to provide themselves with the books above named may, to a limited extent, obtain them from the Library of the Institution.

Comparatively few text books are needed; as the instruction is mostly given by Lectures, of which the students are required to take copious notes.

OF ADMISSION.

Every person producing to the Faculty satisfactory evidence of his having been admitted a Candidate for Holy Orders, with full qualifications, according to the Canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, may be received as a Student in the Divinity School. Any other person may be admitted who shall produce satisfactory evidence of moral and religious character; of literary attainments; and in general of such disposition and habits as may render him apt and meet to exercise the ministry, and to be a suitable companion for young men preparing for the same.

To be admitted a member of the Middle or Senior Class, or of the Junior Class after the month of September, a person must undergo a satisfactory examination in the studies which have been pursued by the Class for which he proposes.

No student can pass from a lower to a higher class except upon a satisfactory examination.

OF THE LIBRARY.

The Library contains about 6000 volumes, including many of the most valuable Theological works; to which the Students have access daily.

OF VACATIONS AND EXAMINATIONS.

The year is divided into three terms: the first beginning on the third Thursday in September, and ending on the 24th day of December; when there is a suspension of study until the next day after the Festival of the Epiphany. The second term ends on the Saturday next before the sixth Sunday in Lent; when there is a recess until the Wednesday after Easter. The third term continues until the Thursday after the third Tuesday in June.

The recitations and Lectures are also omitted on Ash Wednesday and on all days of Thanksgiving and Fasting appointed by the Ecclesiastical or Civil Authority.

Before the Christmas and Easter vacations there are reviews and examinations, by order of the Faculty.

At the end of the year there is a public examination of the several classes upon all the studies of the year.

The Annual Commencement takes place on the Thursday after the third Tuesday in June; when, after Divine Service, testimonials are conferred, and there are such exercises on the part of the Students, as may be designated by the Faculty.

OF EXPENSES.

Board, including fuel and light, can be had either in Divinity Hall, (which can accommodate about twenty-four Students,) or in the neighborhood, on moderate terms.

There is no charge for tuition or room-rent.

Young men requiring pecuniary assistance to enable them to prosecute their studies in Theology, may make application to the Dean of the Faculty.

SOCIETIES.

There are two societies among the Students: the "James May Missionary Society," and the "Potter Rhetorical Society."

The object of the Missionary Society is to obtain and communicate information on the subject of Missions, and to foster a Missionary spirit among its members and the Students generally. It holds its meetings on the first Thursday of each month.

The purpose of the Rhetorical Society is sufficiently indicated by its name.

BUILDINGS.

The Buildings at present owned by the Institution are known as Divinity Hall and Spencer Hall. The former is the residence of the Matron and of a considerable number of the Students. The Dean occupies as an Office and Lecture Room the front parlor in this Building.

Spencer Hall contains the Library of the Divinity School, and the Chapel for the religious services held with the Students. The Library is also used as a Lecture and Recitation Room by the Professor of Biblical Learning; and the Chapel is employed for a like purpose by the other Professors; it being divisible into two rooms by sliding doors.

THE MISSION HOUSE.

This Institution is distinct from the Divinity School, alike in its location and design; being situated in another portion of the city, and having, in the training of its Students, a more restricted aim. It is at 3518 Lancaster Avenue, and is especially designed to educate young men for Foreign missionary work. There are, however, these two links of connection between the different Institutions: first, that one of the Professors at the Divinity School is also an instructor at the Mission House; and next, that the Students of the latter, during their Seminary course, attend certain lectures and recitations at the former.

The full curriculum at the Mission House embraces:

I. A Preparatory Course, consisting of the most essential parts of an Academic and Collegiate Education.

II. A Seminary Course, comprising such Theological studies as are needful for Missionary work.

It was originally intended that these courses should be each three years in extent; but experience has shown that the second three are liable to abbreviation, from the demands of the Missionary field. Running through both courses, there is special instruction in the elements of Medical science, in the Geography and Ethnology of Missionary lands, in the fundamental principles of language, in music and singing, and in practical Missionary work.

FACULTY OF THE MISSION HOUSE.

REV. ALEX. SHIRAS, A. M., Principal and Resident Instructor.

“ A. M. MORRISON, Assistant Instructor.

“ R. B. CLAXTON, D. D., Cooke Professor of Mental and Moral Science.

DRS. WM. PEPPER, HARRISON ALLEN, ED. RHOADS, and JAMES TYSON, Lecturers on Medical Science.
